

THE WARMING ARCTIC SITE OF A NEW "COLD WAR"?

Sept. 29th • 4:30-6PM • MIT 4-270

182 Memorial Dr, Cambridge

Free & open to the public - Refreshments served

As part of the Focus On Russia lecture series and the Architecture at the End of the Earth exhibition series, this will explore the geopolitical implications of the thawing Arctic. The speakers will discuss what is at stake as trade routes and mineral deposits open up due to Climate Change. The changing landscape in the Arctic opens up tremendous potential, but also the possibility of geopolitical conflict among the littoral states.

CAROL SAIVETZ & ELIZABETH WOOD: CO-CHAIRS

LAWRENCE
SUSSKIND

Ford Professor of Urban and Environmental Planning at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Director, MIT Science Impact Collaborative

KENNETH YALOWITZ

Former Ambassador to Belarus and Georgia; Director, Conflict Resolution Center, Georgetown University; Senior Fellow, Arctic Studies at Dartmouth